

DIVORCE INTELLIGENCE & CONSCIOUS CO-PARENTING WISDOM

WHAT IT IS

A Program designed to help you flow through divorce or separation and parent in partnership with conscious awareness. It's a perspective and philosophy on how to best divorce and resolve family conflict. It's about cultivating emotional intelligence and empowered choices to create a more peaceful present and solid foundation for the future.

Working together, we will minimize your emotional baggage and pain and create a path of grace and ease.

Divorce, Separation, and Custody difficulties can shake a person to the core: you can be shaken up and reborn new and improved or shaken down and defeated by fear, anger, helplessness and betrayal.

My goal is build you up, support you, and help you heal for a more peaceful experience today and tomorrow.

THE THEORY:

As human beings we are emotional beings. It is through our emotions that we experience life and create our life. Our brain and our intellect are important for processing, but life starts in the heart. Science has discovered that the heart has a "brain" called the "heart brain", which not only processes information, but also communicates with and influences the cranial brain which in turn effects our organs, mental and emotional balance, and overall experience in life. By aligning your heart and your brain, you can achieve optimal health and experience better outcomes. The key to alignment is unlocking and following the heart.

Divorce, separation, custody and family conflict, creates heartbreak, distrust and a life more aligned to the ego's goals of separation, conflict and ill-emotions of blame, greed, jealousy and so on. When your actions and decisions are driven by the ego and a locked heart, you create more unhappiness and dissatisfaction.

For a more peaceful, heart centered life, you must heal the heart, unlock the heart and return to trust: this is the purpose of Divorce with Heart and my system of Divorce Intelligence.

I will guide you on this journey and help you access your heart centered wisdom so you can make better choices. In child custody matters, we will take a child-centered heart-centered approach, versus an ego driven battle of wills.

TWO PART FORMULA

01 LEGAL INTELLIGENCE

First and foremost, you will get top-notch legal expertise. I am a lawyer first, with a wealth of experience helping families resolve conflict. I stay up to date on the law, by regularly attending legal seminars, reading bulletins and case notes, and participating in Bar Association Committees. Since 2004, I have represented countless children, mothers, fathers, wives, husbands, and grandparents both in and out of court. I know the players: Judges, law clerks, court attorney referees, and attorneys; and the process- whether you choose litigation, mediation, or collaborative law.

Things you will receive :

- education on legal topics and points of interest via e-mail newsletter, podcast, and client access downloads.* (no guarantee on frequency or quantity offered)
- personal conferences to discuss your legal goals and strategies and reasonable outcomes, solution oriented advocacy, and a confidential attorney client relationship.

02 EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE AND INNER ALIGNMENT

Things you will receive :

- Here I will utilize my skills as an empath, to intuitively check in with you and those around you to read the energy of the situation, shift or clear the energy to what is more desired, and align your goals with your heart and soul.
- Personal Prescription on how to flow through your family matter, which will complement our legal strategy and your goals.
- Monthly Alignment or Shift Session to keep you aligned to your vision and most desired outcome.
- Techniques of Conscious Uncoupling Coaching, as famously designed by Katherine Woodward Thomas.

- Special access to worksheets and education designed to get you into a more heart aligned purposeful state, via e-mail newsletter, downloads, and community Facebook page. *(no guarantee on frequency or quantity offered)

BENEFITS:

When you choose to team up with DePrima Law, you're not only getting a lawyer, you're getting a guide and mentor to fully support you on your journey. Divorce, separation and child custody matters can be difficult, you need someone that can show you the way.

WHO IT IS FOR

Anyone looking to break up with dignity and respect for themselves and their partner. An open mind to the possibility of building cooperative harmonious relationships, despite the break up, is helpful. You must have a willingness to try new things and reconnect with yourself and your heart.

WHO IT IS NOT FOR

This is not suited for revenge seekers, and anger monsters who seek more to compete and “win” at all costs. A vindictive vengeful person, could certainly benefit, but without the intention and desire to change and seek resolutions in a more balanced peaceful way, the process will fail.
